WORLD HUMANITARIAN DAY

On 19 August 2003, a bomb attack on the Canal Hotel in Baghdad, Iraq, killed 22 humanitarian aid workers, including the UN Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Iraq, Sergio Vieira de Mello. Five years later, the General Assembly adopted a resolution designating 19 August as World Humanitarian Day (WHD).

Each year, WHD focuses on a theme, bringing together partners from across the humanitarian system to advocate for the survival, well-being and dignity of people affected by crises, and for the safety and security of aid workers.

So our esteemed institution LLDIMS, decided that we celebrate World Humanitarian Day to honour the sacrifices of all humanitarian aid workers who work in some of the world's toughest places, often at great risk to their own safety, to provide aid and relief to the world's most vulnerable and desperate populations.

WOMEN EQUALITY DAY

Women's Equality Day is observed on August 26th each year. It is a day dedicated to recognizing the struggles and achievements in the ongoing fight for gender equality. Women's Equality Day is observed in various ways, including educational events, marches, panel discussions, and social media campaigns. Educational institutions often hold events to teach the history of the women's rights movement and discuss current challenges and opportunities for progress. It serves as a reminder of the progress made and the challenges that remain in the fight for gender equality. As society continues to evolve, Women's Equality Day calls everyone to contribute to the ongoing struggle for a just and equitable world.

On the occasion of Women Equality Day, our department of education has organized a poster making competition, where all the students gathered together in the auditorium and created beautiful posters on the topic.

Some of the students have also gave strongly impacted speech, in this way they created an impactful aura of positiveness.

ANTI-RAGGING AWARENESS CAMPAIGN

An Anti-Ragging Awareness Program is a crucial initiative aimed at combating the pervasive issue of ragging in educational institutions. Ragging, which often involves mental and physical harassment of junior students by their seniors, can have devastating consequences, including psychological trauma and even loss of life. The program seeks to educate students about the dangers and legal implications of ragging, fostering a culture of respect and safety on campus. It typically includes workshops, seminars, and interactive sessions led by experts and faculty members to discuss the psychological and legal aspects of ragging.

The Anti-Ragging Awareness Program is not just about enforcing rules, it's about creating a cultural shift within educational institutions. By promoting understanding, respect, and a sense of community, these programs can help eradicate the menace of ragging and ensure a safe, supportive environment for all students. Institutions must regularly update and engage in these programs, keeping the issue at the forefront and ensuring that every student knows that ragging, in any form, will not be tolerated.

The poster features a central illustration of a distressed student being pulled back by a hand, with a large 'RAGGING' sign crossed out in the background. The text is arranged as follows:
