GST 2.0 REFORMS AND INDIA'S INCLUSIVE GROWTH AGENDA: POLICY PATHWAYS TO A VIKSIT BHARAT

10th -11th APRIL 2026

Lingaya's Lalita Devi Institute of Management & Sciences (LLDIMS) is an autonomous institution affiliated with Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University (GGSIPU) and approved by the Government of NCT of Delhi. Accredited with an 'A+' Grade by NAAC, the institute has been a distinguished center of higher education since its establishment in 2005.

LLDIMS offers undergraduate programs in BBA, B.Com (Hons.), B.Ed., BA (Journalism & Mass Communication), and BCA, with a strong commitment to quality and activity-based learning. The institute emphasizes emerging disciplines in management, education, journalism, and computer applications, striving to develop professionally competent, ethically grounded, and industry-ready graduates. Through innovation-led pedagogy, experienced faculty, and strong industry collaborations, LLDIMS continues to contribute significantly to the development of skilled human capital for academia, industry, and entrepreneurship.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

India's Goods and Services Tax (GST) represents one of the most transformative fiscal reforms in post-independence India. As GST evolves into GST 2.0, it has emerged as a powerful instrument for economic formalisation, digital governance, fiscal federalism, compliance reform, and inclusive growth. Aligned with the vision of Viksit Bharat 2047, this National Conference positions GST not merely as a tax mechanism but as a comprehensive fiscal and social policy framework with far-reaching developmental implications. The Conference seeks to foster interdisciplinary dialogue among academicians, policymakers, industry leaders, tax professionals, and students to critically examine GST 2.0 reforms, their socio-economic impact, and forward-looking policy pathways.

OBJECTIVES

- To examine the evolving framework of GST 2.0 and its reform trajectory.
- To analyze the role of GST in advancing inclusive growth and fiscal federalism.
- To promote research-oriented discussions on taxation policy and governance.
- To explore policy pathways aligned with the vision of Viksit Bharat 2047.

CALL FOR RESEARCH PAPERS

The Conference welcomes original scholarly contributions that advance rigorous inquiry into taxation, governance, and public finance. Papers offering policy-relevant insights, empirical evidence, interdisciplinary perspectives, and transformative reform frameworks aimed at inclusive and sustainable development will receive special consideration.
