NUKKAD NATAK AT NDMC CONVENTION CENTRE

BBA students of Lingaya's Lalita Devi Institute of Management & Sciences (LLDIMS) performed an impactful Nukkad Natak at NDMC Convention Centre in collaboration with Bhagidari Jan Sahog Samiti. The performance aimed to create awareness among the audience about important social issues and encourage responsible citizenship. Through an engaging blend of dialogue, acting, and meaningful messages, the students effectively communicated the significance of social responsibility and community participation. The activity provided students with an opportunity to showcase their creativity, communication skills, confidence, and teamwork while connecting academic learning with real-life social concerns. The performance was appreciated for its energetic presentation and meaningful message.

SESSION ON THINK-TRAIN-TRANSFORM: REIMAGINING TEACHING LEARNING PROCESS

Lingaya's Lalita Devi Institute of Management & Sciences (LLDIMS) organized an insightful academic programme titled "Think-Train-Transform: Reimagining Teaching Learning Process" on 25 September 2026 in the Seminar Hall for the students of BBA and B.Com. The session featured distinguished resource person Prof. (Dr.) Sanjeev Mittal, Professor of Management and Director of Academic Affairs (Retd.), University School of Management Studies, GGSIP University. The session focused on contemporary teaching-learning practices, experiential learning, critical thinking, and the importance of continuous skill development. Through interactive discussions and practical insights, students gained valuable perspectives on learning beyond textbooks and preparing themselves for evolving academic and professional challenges.

GLIMPSES OF SEPTEMBER ACTIVITY

THINK, TEACH & TRANSFORM

Lingaya's Lalita Devi Institute of Management & Sciences (LLDIMS) organized a Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on the theme "Think, Teach & Transform" for faculty and staff members. The programme aimed to encourage innovative teaching practices, critical thinking, and effective approaches to contemporary teaching and learning. Eminent academicians Dr. R. P. Mohanty and Dr. Sachin Mangla served as distinguished resource persons and shared valuable academic perspectives and practical insights. The interactive sessions provided faculty members with an opportunity to reflect on existing pedagogical practices and explore innovative methods for enhancing student engagement and learning outcomes. The FDP concluded with meaningful discussions and renewed commitment towards academic excellence.

PORTFOLIO MASTERS – THE VIRTUAL TRADING CHALLENGE

The Department of Management successfully conducted “Portfolio Masters – The Virtual Trading Challenge” on 29 September 2026, coordinated by Dr. Pratibha Saini. The activity provided students with practical exposure to virtual trading, stock analysis, portfolio creation, and investment decision-making. Students analysed market scenarios, developed investment strategies, and evaluated key concepts such as risk, return, and diversification. The challenge encouraged students to apply theoretical financial knowledge in a simulated market environment. Through this engaging experiential learning activity, students enhanced their analytical, financial, strategic, and decision-making skills, while gaining a better understanding of investment practices and the dynamics of the stock market.
